And baby room all over again.
Free to make the best choices: rent, share, buy, rent out...
And always have the best floor options.
Free to walk around barefoot, to dance in the bathroom,
Or in the living room, with a drink in your hand, with your friends...
Free to change your flooring while still caring for the environment – and your finances.
Free to choose a pattern that's perfectly you
And free to install it yourself, even if you're new to home renovation.
In short, you're free to live in a home that's both beautiful and alive,
A home that's yours and a home that's you.

A word from the Décor Director

With designs inspired by early Tarkett patterns, the new ICONIK collection is a tribute to the brand's DNA.

By analysing current trends, the design team learned that the authenticity is crucial in the development of the new decors. Customers choose by look and feel. The "Breath" and "Majestic Nature" trends in particular lead to a new kind of natural design where the details are important and the plank size is bigger. "Fumed Oak" is a perfect example: we tried to preserve the natural atmosphere of this pure material as much as possible. The result is a floor whose striking realism complements any room.

By doing this, we created high-end designs at affordable prices and that was our goal.

Thorsten Beinke, Décor Director

New Ultra Matt Effect

The elegant Ultra Matt effect finish reinforces the authentic beauty of a room's atmosphere to make design appear highly natural and realistic.

With soft, muted hues, it's also the perfect complement to bright furniture that brings life to a room whether a bathroom, a kitchen, or a living room.

Textile Backing

If it's comfort you're looking for, keep an eye out for textile backing.

Textile backing gives vinyl flooring a smooth cushioned feel under-foot, and it dampens sounds too, making your home that little bit quieter.

The extra textile layer offers another benefit: because of the extra absorption, it covers irregularities in the surface beneath it, so you won't need to prepare the subfloor before laying textile backed vinyl.

Less hassle, more comfort, what's not to like?!

Doing good. Together.

Your environment matters and your choices matter. Choosing floors that respect the environment truly does make a difference: products designed with sustainability in mind, with the materials and production methods, to the impact they have during their life, such as indoor air quality.

Designing for life

You probably spend a lot of your time indoors, whether working or relaxing, caring or sharing. You probably also feel that safer, healthier indoor spaces designed using sustainable materials are important for your well-being.

We feel the same. That's why we apply Cradle to Cradle® principles, choosing EPEA* assessed materials, an international recognised research and sustainability consultancy institute, specialising in materials database.

We ensure complete transparency throughout the production chain, detailed in our Material Health Statement. This helps us benchmark progress as we improve the material composition of our products day after day.

As it is, we already use the quality materials for all our products. Our floors are 100% phthalate free and have low VOC emissions (<100µg/m³, ten times lower than required by European standards), which contributes to healthier, allergy/asthma-friendly indoor environments. Where possible, we also use materials that are both recycled, recyclable, with as low an environmental impact as possible.

We design our floors not just better for you, but gentler on our world too, helping preserve natural resources and mitigate climate change.

Driving collaboration

We all know that we can't do this alone. Protecting our environment, our climate, our natural resources, these challenges require collaboration. So that's where we start: building a consensus and driving collaboration with our partners and with independent organisations such as EPEA, to ensure that up and down the line our products and methods, and those of our partners respect international environmental standards and are geared towards positive environmental impact.

We promote transparency through Cradle to Cradle® material assessment process and encourage our stakeholders, partners and you, our customers, to join us, so that together we can build a more sustainable world.
